Chief's Message

well!

This week I spent two days with the Shorewood Health classes for their annual “Ask the Chief ANYTHING” class during their safety week. I always welcome the invitations to our schools and the opportunity to connect with students and staff. This is one of my favorite events every semester because of all of the intelligent and thoughtful questions students have about the work we do and how we can partner to make our community safer.

Friday evening, Ridgecrest Elementary School is having their Taste of Ridgecrest as part of their 75th Anniversary. Please feel free to drop by between 1730-1930 hours for the event. I will be there celebrating as

I want to wish all of our mother's a very happy and special Mother's Day this coming Sunday!

Appreciation for Detective Kieland

Kori Tjoelker, the Secondary Director of the Shoreline Christian School, expressed her appreciation for Detective Paula Kieland's engaging presentation and time she spent with her students.

Kori wrote "Thank you so much for your visit with our 9th grade class at SCS today. You shared lots of interesting information and gave many of the kids a good idea of what a career in law enforcement looks like. Thanks for patiently and graciously answering all of their questions. The feedback from the kids has all been positive. We appreciate you giving off your time to our community."

Nurturing Trust Workshops

Kenmore concluded our inaugural Nurturing Trust workshops with a celebration. The workshops were focused on a number of current topics facing parents today, including drugs, domestic violence, gangs and more. Participants engaged in lively conversations on the selected topic each night. Held in conjunction with the Northshore School District, the workshops were hosted and funded by Kenmore Police in our hopes to further engage and educate our community. I attended the final workshop and assisted in handing out certificates and answered questions.

These workshops were a direct result of the expertise and hard work of Dahlia Corona. Her dedication to the community in making this happen was appreciated by all involved.

Outreach Anywhere

Monday morning's detail at Shoreline's Brown Bear again showed the initiative and tremendous support of our RCR co-response team.

MHP Ruby Townsend, after hearing the detail, joined us after a man found himself dropped in the back of this Recology garbage truck. Through a combination of compassion, outreach and patrol work, he was transported to behavioral healthcare connection near Greenlake.

The initiative, effort and knowledge of Ruby and her colleagues is evident across nearly all patrol shifts and for this we thank them.

Protecting Our Feathered Friends

While we don't have zebras running amok in Kenmore, Deputy Blanchette did chase ducks out of the road this week.

We added a zebra for dramatic effect though.
